

This is one of the few freedoms we still have to be able to have peace in our homes! It is our constitutional right and should be up to us the consumer to decide if we are interested in being contacted. Being a consumer, the high pressure, persistant telemarketer does nothing but make me mad and determeded never to do business with them!